

WOOD FOR WARMTH SEAN POWERS WOOD BANK

Wood for Warmth is a simple community effort of neighbors helping neighbors to stay warm through the winter.

1. Please step out to check on your friends and neighbors.

- Do they have adequate heating supplies (oil, gas, wood) to make it through the winter?
- Have they called Hopkinton Human Services to register for Federal fuel assistance and/or gotten on "need assistance-fuel/wood" list.

2. Please help your neighbors.

- Do they need assistance with splitting, stacking, transporting or shoveling a path to a woodpile?
- Can you or your friends help that neighbor?

3. New: Sean Powers Wood Bank- Located at the Hopkinton Transfer Station
Monday, Wednesday, Saturday 8am-5pm
Friday 1pm-5pm

- To donate burnable hardwood in 16" lengths (wood that you would burn in your home), bring the wood to the Transfer Station and check-in at the office.
- If you need to access firewood, you can call the Hopkinton Human Services Director at (603) 746-5729 to request information about a wood voucher.

Veterans- For help with heating expenses contact Operation Helping Hand at 227-1496 or 227-1560

Thank you.

THANK YOU TO THE COMMUNITY

Truly the success of this Wood for Warmth movement is due solely to the unselfish donations of wood, of hours standing at a splitter, and of hauling and unloading. Thanks also to neighbors cutting and splitting their friends' wood, as well as donations of safety advice, website preparation and the making of "thank you" plaques. To the Selectmen and town officers who supported this activity...again, thank you.

It is a great testimony to the small New England town, using one of its long-standing traditions – word of mouth – to reach out to its citizens. And in turn, residents of the villages of Contoocook and Hopkinton exhibited their greatest strength, using their own two hands to provide for their neighbors.

Thank you to everyone. With special thanks going to Jim and Andy Stone, Jeff Dearborn, Russell Gates, Marcia Evans, Chuck Rose and Bruce Cayer.

Also special thanks goes out to Andre Hubbard and his father Dave for their efforts in stacking and covering the wood.
